AW AIR BOAT FLY

MARYVILLE COUPLE AT WORLD
EVENT AT ST. PETERSBURG.

COST $400.00 TO RIDE

Immense Throng Massed Along the Sea Wall to See the Boat Start on Journey.

Mr. and Mrs. George Robert Eaton of South Buchanan street, who have just returned from their holiday trip to St. Petersburg, Fla., had the honor to witness the inauguration of the first airboat line in the world on the morning of New Year's day.

Thousands of men, women and children, a multitude that no man has ventured to estimate its number, gathered at the water's edge at St. Petersburg, to witness the event that will mark the beginning of history of navigation of the air.

It was the opening of the all-air route to Tampa, thirty-six miles away. The trip going was made in twenty-five minutes, and the return was made in twenty minutes. It was the first trip of the first regular passenger service of any kind of airboat or aeroplane in the world and was successful beyond all expectations of all excepting those who knew the manufacture of the Benoist, as the airboat is known.

Nearly as exciting as the launching of this strange craft, half boat and half aeroplane, was the bidding for a seat as the first passenger. The highest bidder was Ex-Mayor Phell of St. Petersburg, who paid $400 for the privilege of the first ride on the airboat operating on a regular schedule between the two cities. The money the ex-mayor paid for his ticket will be used to put lights at the entrance to the harbor.

The wildest excitement prevailed when the bands began playing "Dixie" as the airboat began moving from the sand into the yacht basin, then lifted into the air like a bird.

Mr. and Mrs. Eaton were stationed right near the boat and used their own camera in securing several pictures of it at different angles. The movie men were on hand, of course, and the click, click of their machines were heard all through the events of the morning, the most novel and stangest ever witnessed by any great crowd of people.

The trip to Tampa was made without a mishap, and the landing was made in less than half an hour after the boat left the basin at St. Petersburg.

It is claimed that a serious accident is not possible with this new craft. The boat is built after the body of a great catfish, the head exactly like it, and the airship is built above it, the boat forming the foundation. Should an accident occur to the biplane part the boat can be unloosed and return to the water for safe navigation to land.

Mr. and Mrs. Eaton had an unusual holiday vacation and counted themselves fortunate in witnessing this wonderful sight.

Miss Eva Vandersloot left Saturday morning on a six weeks' visit with relatives in Kansas City, Odessa and Holden.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Majors and son Earl of Kansas City returned home Saturday morning from a visit with his father, L. T. Majors, and family.

MANY HEARD MR. MIESSLER.

First M. E. Church Was Filled Friday
Night to Hear Young Pianist
From Pittsburg.

Martin Miessler was greeted with a magnificent audience Friday night at the First M. E. church. Everybody was proud and glad to hear him, and the applause that greeted him when he appeared to give his program was enough to puff up most anyone.

Mr. Landon, with whom he was associated as pupil and teacher in the Maryville Conservatory three years, was prouder than anybody. He said he was asked to introduce Martin, and the name sounded so homey and good that way, and Mr. Landon looked like he was almost too glad to talk very much more, that everybody applauded and it helped him to straighten up a little. Then he said that Martin's success was entirely due to his willingness and ability to work; that he was just as hard to teach as any other student; that he had to have just as many scoldings, but he took them good naturedly, and he worked and worked and worked, and paid for his lessons by his own effort. Then he went to Germany twice and kept on working and is still working, and that is the reason he has achieved the position he holds as a teacher and pianist.

After Mr. Miessler's first number, Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata, he responded to an encore, and during the applause a large bouquet of pink Killarney roses was carried to him, bestowed by the ladies of the First Baptist church, where Martin was pianist two years. After the concert he was forced to hold a reception, for everybody wished to personally greet him.

He left Saturday afternoon for his home in Pittsburg, having made the trip to Maryville for the purpose of giving this number of the Maryville lyceum course. The program was charming, each number an exquisite interpretation of the best in music, and everyone was the better for having heard it.

NORMAL SCHOOL NOTES.

Mr. Abe Corey, the foreign missionary who spoke at the Methodist church last Sunday evening, gave a short talk to the Normal school students during the assembly hour Monday morning. Mr. Corey surely has a message, and from his thoughtful and earnest manner of speaking shows himself to be thoroughly imbued by it. He says that the truest missionaries are not those willing to go to China, but those who are willing to go across the street in the service of Christ. The amount of real work that each one can do right at their own door was emphasized by the speaker.

The assembly hour Wednesday morning was given to the Normal school delegates who attended the student volunteer convention at Kansas City December 31, January 1 and 2. Each of the delegates, Misses Allie Jean Fraser and Cella Hutt and Messrs. L. M. Eek and Christian Harrell, gave reports of certain sections of the Kansas City meeting, and each brought back to the students something of the splendid spirit so much in evidence at the convention.

Martin Miessler, former teacher in the Maryville Conservatory, visited the Normal school Friday morning and gave several selections during the assembly hour. Mr. Miessler's work was heartily enjoyed by the student body and faculty, and after playing a group of three pieces, responded to the encore with Lack's Idillo, a selection which he had studied under Mr. Landon. Mr. Miessler gave the following numbers: Marche Grottesque, Sinding; Bird as Prophet, Schuman, and Voices of the Wood, Kaun.

The season tickets for the Normal school's basket ball season were placed on sale Friday morning. Several impromptu speeches were given by members of the faculty and student body, and the basket ball "bug" had full sway over the people out on the hill.

This is the first year for the Normal school in the inter-collegiate conference, and some of the best teams in the state will meet the Normal school team here.

DARK DAYS COMING

With the shortening of the hours of daylight the strain upon the eyes becomes greater with its consequent effect upon the vision.

Have your eyes examined NOW.
Those just bordering upon the time when they need glasses will do well to attend to it at once, while those already wearing them should see to it that they still fit as they ought to. Good eyesight can be fostered just as you can preserve anything else with proper care.

Farm For Sale

The Wm. W. Andrews farm of 124 acres has been placed in our hands for immediate sale. This farm is highly improved and equipped and all ready for the purchaser. Mr. Andrews has decided to retire on account of health and here is a fine opportunity for some one that wants a home close to town. Lying two miles from the city limits and the main highway. Splendid roads and a very desirable home.

A 9-room modern house, furnace heat, acetylene light, also a 2-room house, good brick cave, barn 40x60, granary 12x16, mill room with a No. 4 gasoline engine, engine room 8x12. Bowshe mill that will grind all kinds of grain. A 2-hole shelter, all in first class condition. Barn equipped with litter carrier, cement tank with cement platform 8 feet wide all around it. Stock can drink from fields. Farm fenced in ten fields and all underlaid with tile that cost about $20 per acre. The land has been well cared for, being well matured each year and produces large crops and will be dry when other lands are wet. This farm has been used as a fine stock farm and will not only make a good home but would be an ideal dairy farm. Mr. Andrews will leave $10,000 or less on the farm at 5½ per cent, or will take all the money or will make any fair contract to suit purchaser.

Also there is 15 acres of wheat in good shape, and it, with all the above articles, go with the place, and an early possession can be given.
